The Whitehouse reception accorded Griff's newest heater on the occasion of starting his first major league ball game yesterday was a huge success—from the standpoint of the White Sox, who managed to keep pace with the Indians by recording a 5-4 win and help Grover Lowdermilk to the first victory he has registered this season.
Whitehouse didn't do so poorly, at that, when it is considered that the first run scored off him was of the horseshoe variety, while the second and third had but one hit connected with them. Even in the fifth, the round in which he was yanked, the Gleasons got a lot of breaks to register a pair of rallies.

Ayers replaced him and permitted one hit and no runs for the remainder of the fray, in addition to becoming out a bunt, "in everything. If the doctor had started—what's the use? He might have had just as much luck as Whitehouse.

much luck as Whitehouse.

As it was, the Griff's appeared to have no chance to win until the ninth, as it was the fourth inning before they were able to bunch enough offensive tactics to register a pair of rallies, and at that stage the Sox had collected their quota of five.

Fans Thrilled in Ninth.

The fans were given a thrill in the final frame, when the Nationals shoved over two runs and had the tie-ing tally on the baselines. Grover was out when Menosky, who had been hitter, varied his tactics by obtaining a walk and took third on Judge's single to right. Foster hit a line drive to Risberg, who pegged wildly to Gandil in an effort to double Judge off first. The ball rolled into the Washington dug-out, Mike scoring and Judge taking third, from where he tallied when Milan blistered a hit through Lowdermilk. With Rice up the bugs had hopes, but Milan's effort to get into position to score on a single was thwarted when Schaak balked his attempt to steal.

It required three hits, a sacrifice fly and an error for the Griff's to register their first two runs in the sixth. Rice started it with a bingle to right, and went on to third when John Collins fumbled Murphy's blow to left. A mighty lunge by Garrity produced a swinging bunt that scored Siam, put Murphy on second and gave Pat credit for a single. Shanks raised an easy fly that Jackson muffed, but he escaped being penalized by recovering in time to force Garrity at second, Murphy advancing to third and scoring on Grover's sacrifice fly.

The Collins boys, Eddie and John, had much to do with the Sox victory.
The former sacrificed and drew walk, in addition grabbing three singles for a perfect day at bat. John also got a trio of blows, making the way for the first two Chicago tallies.

Ed Garrity a Star.

The heights Ed Garrity has attained in the backstop were demonstrated in an impressive manner yesterday on half a dozen occasions. He suggested John Collins and Ray Schaak on attempted steals and handled Murphy's wide throw to snuff E. Collins at the plate and complete a double play in the seventh like an artist. He ran to the steps of the Washington dug-out to grab Risberg's foul in the eighth and broke up an attempted double steal in mighty smooth style in the fifth when his perfect throw to Grover was returned in time to kill off the speedy Jackson at the pan. His best bit of work was in the fourth after Risberg had tripled to the scoreboard. Schaak's bounce to Foster produced a good throw to the plate and Pat made no effort to tag Risberg, but tossed without hesitation to Judge, his peg nailing the nimble Schaak.

Bob Murphy, in addition to getting himself hit, made a clever shoestring catch of a liner from McMullin's bat in the ninth that provoked applause.
Bob had just trapped a similar drive by E. Collins and given the latter an additional base with a poor throw past Judge. He had to come in fast for McMullin's rap and scooped it up off the grass.

in the ninth that provoked applause.

off the grass.
